Dementia Care Workshop for Family Caregivers to be held June 18 in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK – The Schmieding Home Caregiver Training Program of the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences (UAMS) is offering a free Dementia Care Workshop June 18 in Little Rock for family members who are providing unpaid care for an older adult with dementia.

The workshop will be held from 2 - 4 p.m. at Parkway Village Retirement Community, 14300 Chenal Parkway. Space is limited, and registration is required. To register, call 501-202-1641 or email DBLeBlanc@uams.edu.

The workshop will cover the topics of identifying the caregiver, Alzheimer's disease and dementias, caregiver health, nutrition, recognizing caregiver stress and managing behavioral issues.

Family caregivers include anyone who helps with care, including managing a family member's medications, talking to doctors and nurses on their behalf, or simply preparing their meals and doing a few household chores.

About 80 percent of Arkansas' older population who are still living in their home depend on family and friends for assistance. Dementia care at home can become more and more challenging. A better understanding of the disease may help families care for their loved one.

The workshop is supported by the Geriatric Workforce Enhancement Collaborative at UAMS and grants from the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation.

UAMS is the state's only health sciences university, with colleges of Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Health Professions and Public Health; a graduate school; hospital; a main campus in Little Rock; a Northwest Arkansas regional campus in Fayetteville; a statewide network of regional campuses; and seven institutes: the Winthrop P.
