Vivian Shi, M.D., Joins UAMS Dermatology Clinic

LITTLE ROCK — Dermatologist Vivian Shi, M.D., has joined the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences (UAMS) and Shi sees patients in the Dermatology Clinic, in UAMS' Winthrop P. Rockefeller Cancer Institute.

Shi is also an associate professor in the Department of Dermatology in the UAMS College of Medicine.

At UAMS, Shi will continue her academic mission to bridge excellent patient care with innovative research and education. She will continue to conduct clinical and translational research in dermatology. She also will be directing the state's only Hidradenitis Suppurativa Specialty Clinic and continue to care for patients with complex inflammatory skin conditions in an Eczema Specialty Clinic.

Shi earned her medical degree from the University of Illinois at Chicago, where she also completed a fellowship in the Skin Immunology Laboratory. Shi completed her internship in internal medicine at the University of Chicago — NorthShore Health System, followed by a dermatology residency at the University of California, Davis, where she served as chief resident.

Before coming to UAMS, Shi was director of Dermatology Clinical Trials, the Inflammatory Skin Research Fellowship Program, Eczema Specialty Clinic, and Hidradenitis Suppurativa Specialty Clinic at the University of Arizona Banner Medical Center in Tucson, Arizona. She was also the faculty adviser for the Dermatology Medical Student Interest Group at the University of Arizona College of Medicine — Tucson.

Shi's research and clinical interests are in complex inflammatory skin conditions such as atopic dermatitis, hidradenitis suppurativa, and psoriasis; skin barrier repair; transepidermal drug delivery; and integrative dermatology.

Shi has served as the principal investigator for numerous industry-sponsored and investigator-initiated clinical and translational studies. She has published over 100 peer-reviewed articles and is the editor for two reference dermatology textbooks on atopic dermatitis and hidradenitis suppurativa. She is a recipient of the Patient-Centered Investigation Award from the Dermatology Foundation and is a member of the International Eczema Council.

Shi is dedicated to outreach for underserved communities in the United States and abroad. She has completed medical outreach trips to remote areas of India, Burma, China, Vietnam and Mexico.

UAMS is the state's only health sciences university, with colleges of Medicine, Nursing, Pharmacy, Health Professions and Public Health; a graduate school; hospital; a main campus in Little Rock; a Northwest Arkansas regional campus in Fayetteville; a statewide network of regional campuses; and seven institutes: the Winthrop P. Rockefeller Cancer Institute, Jackson T. Stephens Spine & Neurosciences Institute, Harvey & Bernice Jones Eye Institute, Psychiatric Research Institute, Donald W. Reynolds Institute on Aging, Translational Research Institute and Institute for Digital Health & Innovation. UAMS includes UAMS Health, a statewide health system that encompasses all of UAMS' clinical enterprise including its hospital, regional clinics and clinics it operates or staffs in cooperation with other providers. UAMS is the only adult Level 1 trauma center in the state. U.S. News & World Report named UAMS Medical Center the state's Best Hospital; ranked its ear, nose and throat program among the top 50 nationwide; and named six areas as high performing — cancer, colon cancer surgery, heart failure, hip replacement, knee replacement and lung cancer surgery. UAMS has 2,727 students, 870 medical residents and five dental residents. It is the state's largest public employer with more than 10,000 employees, including 1,200 physicians who provide care to patients at UAMS, its regional campuses, Arkansas Children's Hospital, the VA Medical Center and Baptist Health.
