LITTLE ROCK — The TBI State Partnership Program and the Trauma Rehabilitation Resources Program at the University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences (UAMS) will host a “Traumatic Brain Injury Resources Workshop” on Nov. 4.

Both host programs fall under UAMS’ Institute for Digital Health & Innovation, and they have partnered with several entities throughout the state to provide educational and professional resources for people living with a traumatic brain injury (TBI), including information for their family members, caregivers and health care providers.

Workshop attendees will learn about rehabilitation options, enhanced emergency response, specialized telecommunication equipment, assistive technology solutions and free services.

In addition to interactive discussions, keynote speaker Daniel Bercher, Ph.D., will present information on the Arkansas Trauma Rehabilitation Resources Program.
